

Contents

Introduction and acknowledgements.....vi
Icons.....ix

part one
Laying the groundwork 1

1

Know yourself and your competition 3
Introduction4
Defining your business5
SWOT analysis9
Know your competition.....10
How to run a brainstorm session12
Summary13

2

Generating leads:
How to create the customers you want
By Allyson Stewart-Allen of International Marketing Partners 15
Introduction16
Measuring your time investment.....17
Sources of leads.....17
Gathering and organizing your research information19
Prioritizing your leads20
Types of decision-makers21
Culling your leads.....23
Conclusion23
Checklist.....25
Further resources26

3

Creating personal and company visibility 27

Introduction	28
Public relations and personal visibility.....	28
Some tactics to consider	30
How to write a press release.....	33
Raising your profile in the market.....	35
Summary	44
Further reading.....	44

part two Working the sales cycle 45

4

Lead qualification 47

Introduction	48
Qualifying leads.....	48
Developing a sales strategy	52
Summary	54

5

Working the sales cycle and managing your leads 55

Introduction	56
Understanding the sales cycle.....	56
Identify your buyers	58
Build relationships with your buyers	61
Research	63
First impressions	66
Knowledge management.....	67
A word on the Sales Funnel.....	68
Revenue forecasting	69
Summary	70

6

The psychology of selling	71
Introduction	72
Personality and behavior	72
The four personality types	74
How to influence the activist	76
How to influence the controller	77
How to influence the amiable	78
How to influence the analytical	79
Retail therapy?	80
How people process information	81
Gender and communication	82
Summary	83
Further reading.....	83

part three

Getting them to yes 85

7

Consultative selling	87
Introduction	88
What is consultative selling?	89
Five things to know about your prospect	90
The four buying modes	94
Customers as partners.....	95
Managing expectations	97
Summary	97

8

Writing winning proposals	99
Introduction	100
Part one: The proposal structure for professional service firms....	100
Key elements	101
Measurement and quality issues.....	104
Editing and review	108
Support materials	109
Part two: The tender process in the commercial and public sectors ..	109
Summary	122

9Winning the business beauty parade by making effective presentations 123

Introduction	124
Preparing the presentation.....	125
On stage	128
Ten useful presentation tips to remember	134
Overcoming nervousness.....	136
What to wear.....	137
Ask for the business	138
Summary	139

10Closing the business 141

Introduction	142
Closing strategies	142
Ask for the business	143
Win/lose analysis.....	144
Negotiating the contract	146
Summary	147

part fourContributions and conclusions 149*11*Tips from the trenches 151

Introduction	152
Three business development tips by Michael Bland.....	152
Innovative ways to uncover qualified leads by Roberta Moore.....	154
Not ready for primetime - the power of d-mail by Anne Ready ...	157
Perseverance pays off by Barbara Guerra.....	159
Winning in professional services is about trust by Alan Wein.....	160
Competitive pitches - making sure the 'best team' wins the business by Tony Burgess-Webb	163

From the customer's viewpointBy Bryan Lee, Principal Consultant, Cornwell Management Consultants, plc*167

Introduction	168
Cold calls and visits	168
Presentations	171
Negotiations	174
Losing gracefully.....	176
Winning gracefully	177
Conclusion	178
Further reading.....	178
Last word from the author.....	179
References	180