

Contents

About this book	1
Introduction	3
Factors that will affect your level of success	5
Topic reference table	9
Coaching	11
Glossary of sales terms	12
Chapter one
Preparation and sales development	15
Introduction	16
Your products and your competitors	17
Recording sales-call information	21
Forecasting future sales	27
Other sales models	37
Chapter summary	38

Chapter two

Targeting new accounts	41
Introduction	42
Background information on a target account	43
Differentiating yourself from your competitors	47
Written introduction techniques	50
Examples of introductory letters	54
Chapter summary	58

Chapter three

Telephone and personal introductions	61
Key questions	62
Introductory telephone techniques	63
Cold calling on the telephone	66
Overcoming objections on the telephone	70
Common telephone objections	71
Key questions	74
Chapter summary	77

Chapter four

Turning interest into commitment	79
Introduction	80
Questioning and listening	81
Having a structure	88
Advanced questioning techniques	91
Chapter summary	100

Chapter five

Developing a sale correctly	103
Introduction	104
Ensuring that you have 'genuine' commitment	105
Presenting the benefits of your solution	113
Other sales development factors	118
Chapter summary	121

Chapter six

The presentation	123
Presentations and demonstrations	125
Preparing presentation material	129
Informal and formal presentations	136
You – the presenter	140
Chapter summary	144

Chapter seven

The sales proposal	147
Introduction	148
Establishing that you are at the proposal stage	149
Difference between quotations, proposals and tenders	151
Structuring a quotation and a proposal	154
Proposal to IT Marketing Limited	162
Chapter summary	170

Chapter eight

Negotiation	173
Introduction	174
Bargaining or negotiation?	175
Setting out your objectives	178
The principles of negotiation	183
Understanding the person you are selling to	187
Chapter summary	192

Chapter nine

Closing the sale	195
Introduction	196
Different types of 'Close'	197
Buying signals and overcoming objections	200
Good closing techniques	207
Chapter summary	213

Chapter ten

Managing your accounts and your sales performance	217
Introduction	218
Managing target accounts and relationships	219
Developing an account strategy	224
Gaining an advantage	232
Analysing your sales performance	235
Chapter summary	240

The 10 do's and don'ts of successful selling	242
---	------------